A 3D architectural rendering of a modern entrance structure. The central feature is a large, light beige archway. Above the arch, a series of dark brown, angular, geometric blocks are arranged in a row, creating a decorative canopy. The archway is flanked by two tall, dark brown pillars with a textured, ribbed surface. At the base of the arch, there is a planter box containing green foliage. The entire structure is supported by a dark brown base with a light beige horizontal band. The overall design is contemporary and sophisticated.
